

Notes from the Match Director

I'd like to thank everyone for coming out to the match on Saturday. I think the improvements made to the target stands worked out well. I only remember one instance of a round hitting the board and knocking down targets on bay 1 (there may have been some on bay 2), so the results are a bit more consistent than last time.

Looking at the results, I see two things:

1. People like to shoot pigs. There were consistently fewer pigs left standing than any other target.
2. As a group, we need to figure out where our guns hit at different distances (personally, I need to load the mag with 10 rounds instead of the mag with 1).

For those of you who would like to work on point of aim at various distances, take a look at the Pistol match page (<http://www.berpcstl.com/pistol.php>) on the website. At the bottom of the page are 5 JPG files with accurately sized silhouettes. Print these out and use them for practice. I found that zeroing for pigs at 15 yards allows me to shoot a little low at chickens, dead on for pigs and turkeys, and a little high for rams. Your results may vary, but knowing where to aim at different distances will make you more accurate.

Hope everyone enjoyed the match. See you next time!
